These are extraordinary times. At this stage, there is still a lot of uncertainty about the recovery of the markets and the supply chain. We must first of all guarantee the health safety of our teams. This is our priority.

The first words that best sum up our state of mind since the beginning of the health crisis are Humility and Agility. Humility, because impacts of the epidemic remain difficult to assess. We have studied, as much as possible, the restart procedures with strict sanitary measures deployed globally. We are looking at the data coming back from countries that have begun their deconfinement: China, Korea, Germany, Denmark... Our objective is to decipher market demand and respond quickly to it.

Agility, because since the beginning of the crisis, we have been able to transform ourselves. Our teams have risen to the challenge by demonstrating their adaptability and ingenuity. In just a few days, they changed established processes to become more responsive. The monthly mesh has changed to a daily one. We have just gone through a period of internal innovation and we are absolutely going to capitalize on this dynamic of progress. Digitalization, already well advanced, has been invaluable in controlling our flows and supplies to around the world. We have developed new tools in record time. We are now going to improve and make them more reliable.

| About ASLOG

ASLOG brings together more than 400 companies from all sectors, with 2,000 professionals working together to promote and build tomorrow's Supply Chain. ASLOG is a neutral and independent association that addresses Supply Chain issues.

As early as 1972, visionary men sensed that this function would be decisive for all companies. For almost fifty years, professionals in the sector have made ASLOG the reference partner.

ASLOG is the privileged interlocutor of institutions and public authorities on all questions relating to the sector.

| #supplychain4good

The #SupplyChain4Good community was created at the initiative of Michelin and ASLOG, as part of the Movin'On ecosystem, in favor of a more sustainable mobility of goods.

#SupplyChain4Good's ambition is to federate the actors who work for Supply Chains that are simultaneously good for the planet, the people and the business performance. The members of this community are «shippers» (industrial and commercial companies), «operators» (transporters, logisticians, shipping companies, ports...), «support functions» (academics, consultants, information systems, regulators, NGOs...).

They cover all economic sectors and all regions of the world. Their work takes place throughout the year and culminates in the annual Movin'On Summit, the world summit on sustainable mobility.
